Dr Catherine Goodman

Editor in chief, Journal of Biological Chemistry

Publishing at the Journal of Biological Chemistry

Scientific Editor Catherine Goodman works with JBC's editor in chief, director of publishing, and associate editors to move scientific publishing forward at JBC and beyond. In this seminar, Dr. Goodman will discuss JBC's efforts to promote rigor and reproducibility and support the international biological chemistry community, offer insight into JBC's editorial processes, and explore ongoing challenges in scientific publishing.

Catherine has a PhD and in bioorganic chemistry/protein design. She has been working in scientific publishing since 2006. She was an editor at Nature Chemical Biology from 2006-2015. She started at JBC in 2016 as the new editor in chief.
